American Sewing Guild

Richmond Virginia Chapter

Mini-Member Class

Fabric Collage

Lenette Howard, Instructor

May 16, 2018
10:30am – 2:30pm
Chadwick Heirlooms & Quilting
12501 Patterson Avenue

Rosemary Eichorn, one of the originators of this art form, coined terms to describe her view of fabric collage. One of them is PLORK which means play + work, and she called anyone doing fabric collage, Sewjourners. In that spirit, this class will be STRESS -FREE and fun.

The instructor will supply highly starched squares of muslin as a base for your design, which you can then incorporate into a pillow cover, clothing, or a wall hanging. You supply a sewing machine that allows dropped feed dogs, ¼ yard of any large motif quilting fabric you love, color coordinated thread (I like multi-color thread – but don't be afraid of metallic) and two fat quarters that go with your main motifs. I will have my hamper of scraps to add to your design, and any trims, ribbons, or pieces of fabric can be brought along, too.
We will learn raw edge applique, free-motion quilting, thread painting, and have a great time.

Class Information: Bring a snack or lunch. Water and M&M's will be provided.
Cost: ASG Members Only $20. Check payable to ASG Richmond, Virginia Chapter
Mail Check and Registration to: Janet Wendt, 10009 Reedville Ave., Glen Allen, VA 23060

>>>